

You can't beat an open-top bus ride to get out and about enjoying these amazing stretches of Cornwall's spectacular Atlantic coast.

Use the Sunseeker to get you into St Ives or out to any of the fabulous beaches shown in this leaflet - your ticket lasts all day.

Atlantic coast walks

A walk over coastal grasslands, along the cliffs or over the sand is a surefire way of blowing away the cobwebs and getting some fresh sea air in your lungs.

At the far end of St Ives Bay is Godrevy's awe-inspiring expanse of sandy beach and the wildlife-rich headlands and the dramatic coves of the North Cliffs and Western Hill.

And with the Sunseeker, you don't have to retrace your steps - just catch the bus back further along.

Hayle Towans

This fantastic 3-mile stretch of broad sandy beach and dunes sweeps north-east from the Hayle estuary to Gwithian, popular with surfers, sand yachts and kite buggies. Towans is Cornish for dunes.

Gwithian

The beach beyond the broad sand dunes is a favourite with surfers.

Common seals are a regular sight and the area is a breeding ground for guillemots, razorbills and cormorants. At low tide, rock pools and caves are uncovered, great for kids.

Perched above the dunes, Sunset Surf Café serves delicious home-cooked meals packed with locally-sourced ingredients.

Further along, the Jam Pot Café and Shop, a former 19th-century coastguard lookout with sweeping views across St Ives Bay, serves freshly prepared snacks.

St Ives

Surrounded by gorgeous beaches, this pretty town arcs around the harbour with fishing boats bobbing in the sea.

There are trips round the bay to take, or wander around the historic web of cobbled streets to discover charming independent shops, interesting galleries, and great cafés and restaurants, whether you want a quick cappuccino or nice meal.

Artists have flocked to St Ives for many years and it still has a buzzing creative scene. Take a look at the famous Leach Pottery, founded in 1920, which has contemporary exhibitions, as well as pottery for sale.

And don't forget the sandy beaches with sparkling seawater ideal for swimming, sunbathing and, of course, building sandcastles!

Tate St Ives

With stunning views over the Atlantic Ocean, this gallery showcases works by the St Ives Modernists like Barbara Hepworth and Ben Nicholson, alongside an ever-changing programme of thought-provoking exhibitions.
